Software House Access Control System No. 5000 is sold in the Washington DC Metro Area by Genesis Security Systems LLC

The more things change, the more they stay the same. Twenty-one years ago, the Kruglak brothers and their former company, GIC Security Systems, sold the first Software House Access Control System in the Washington DC area. It is 21-years later, and their new company, Genesis Security Systems, has reached another history-making event by selling serial number 5000 of Software House's 800 security system to DSTI in Gaithersburg, Maryland.

As an authorized dealer for Software House and other major security products with limited distribution, Genesis Security Systems is making major strides in the market by focusing on the key issues that made their former company, GIC, a nationally recognized leader in the industry. Those key issues are customer service and building long-term client relationships. As Tim Dowse at Hughes Network Systems said, "It's great to have the Kruglaks back in the industry. Their customer-first focus and ability to quickly respond to my needs is the reason why we selected them as our security integrator."

To make Genesis a success, the Kruglaks have put together a great management team with more than 115 years of industry experience, including: Chris Foster, Ed Simon, Fred Gray and Dave Gasior.
